Ty,

I have uploaded the email responsive to the 224 keywords into a Goldfynch repository. It has been processed and is ready for review. I added you as a user and you should have received an email from Goldfynch with access information.

If you would like me to setup accounts for the KLDDiscovery review staff please send me their email addresses and I will get that done. We will need to arrange a time to train them on the Goldfynch interface.
